TANTASQUA SCHOLARS

Marie Peters

John Phillips

Once again it is time to renew the tradition here at Tantasqua of recognizing academic achievement. It has, for the past several years, become a singular event which is often overlooked in the hurly-burly of every day school life. All too often the serious, dedicated, ambitious, and hardworking student is taken for granted by all of us here at this school.

Now is the time for a pause and a time for reflection as to just what is the purpose of an American high school? In an attempt at any sort of an answer for this question, it must be evident that the fundamental goal of this institution is to educate the young people of this community. Agreed that this avowed purpose can take many directions, but the basic objective is concerned with the academic instruction of these young people.

Keeping this in mind, we, the staff of the 1987 TANTASQUAN would like to take this opportunity to congratulate these two representative students and their outstanding academic endeavors. It is a reflection on all of us when one of us excels at whatever feat, but to excel to the degree that these two have offers us all a wonderful opportunity to bask in their glory.

So let it be known from this day forward that we at Tantasqua do honor and celebrate the success of our two achievers in the world of academics, and do in the same process recognize those others whose efforts have also brought them to Olympian heights.

CONGRATULATIONS AND A WELL DONE TO YOU ALL!

THE ENGLISH PROGRAM

The English Program was instituted in its present elective form several years ago in order to better provide for the individual needs of all of our Tantasqua population. Courses are available in all of the major areas of interest and on all levels of ability. Many changes in the curriculum have, of course, occurred over the past years in order to update and expand our offerings. The Composition section of our program has been expanded to provide offerings from the basic writing level to the advanced. A new course, Media, has now been added to the English syllabus, and efforts are under way to add computer exercises in several of our course offerings. We are fortunate to have a staff of teachers who are not only capable in many areas but also interested in developing a curriculum that provides challenging and exciting courses for all Tantasqua students.

MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT

Tantasqua High School's Math Department also includes the Computer Department and is serviced by six full time faculty members.

Offerings in Mathematics range from General or Remedial Math through Statistics and Calculus. Computer courses extend from Computer Literacy through Pascal using a Data General Nova 4/x and Apple II computers. Business Mathematics is also offered by the Mathematics Department.

All students must complete 10 credits of Mathematics in order to graduate but most have 15 since all seniors are required to take Math.

The Department sponsors a Math team which participates in the Worcester County Math League (WOCOMAL) with approximately 25 other schools. Students also have an opportunity to compete in nationwide competitive exams in the fall and spring.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS' NEW INSTRUCTOR

The new teacher on the block is George Zini. Mr. Zini is the new Industrial Arts Instructor. Two new courses are being taught this year in the Industrial Arts Department this year. These are the new Graphic Arts and Structures classes being taught by Mr. Zini.

Graphic Arts is divided into three segments. The first segment deals with Silk-screening where students get to print T-Shirts and Christmas cards. The second segment deals with the off-set press, which is a type of printing press. The Graphic Arts Classes are responsible for printing the school newspaper, SEASONS, on the off-set press. The third segment deals with photography and the developing process.

Structures is the other new course taught by Mr. Zini. The Structures class repairs and builds things for the school. The course teaches building, plumbing, and electrical work. Hopefully, the course will save the school money on its repair work. We wish continued success with these classes in future years.

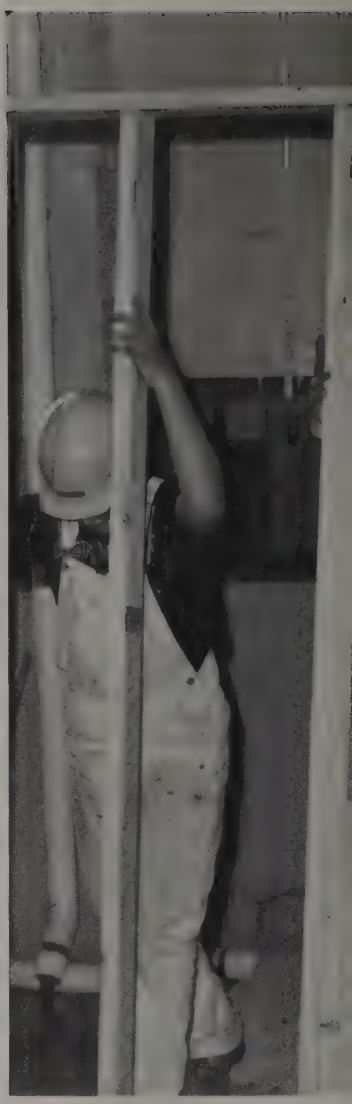
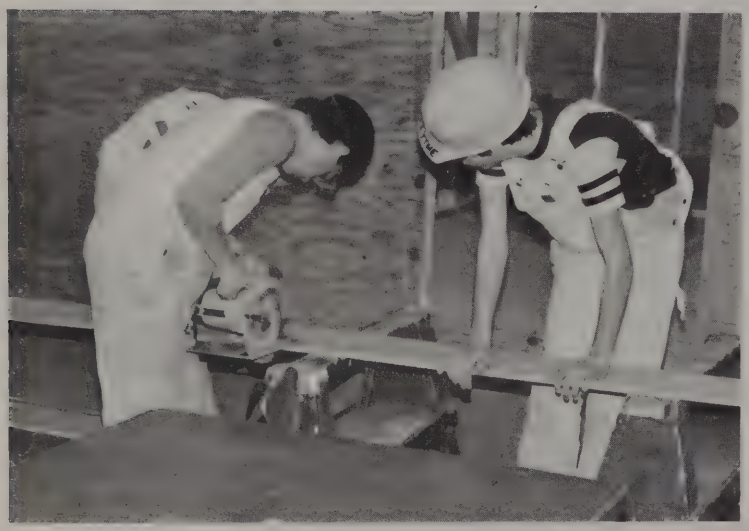
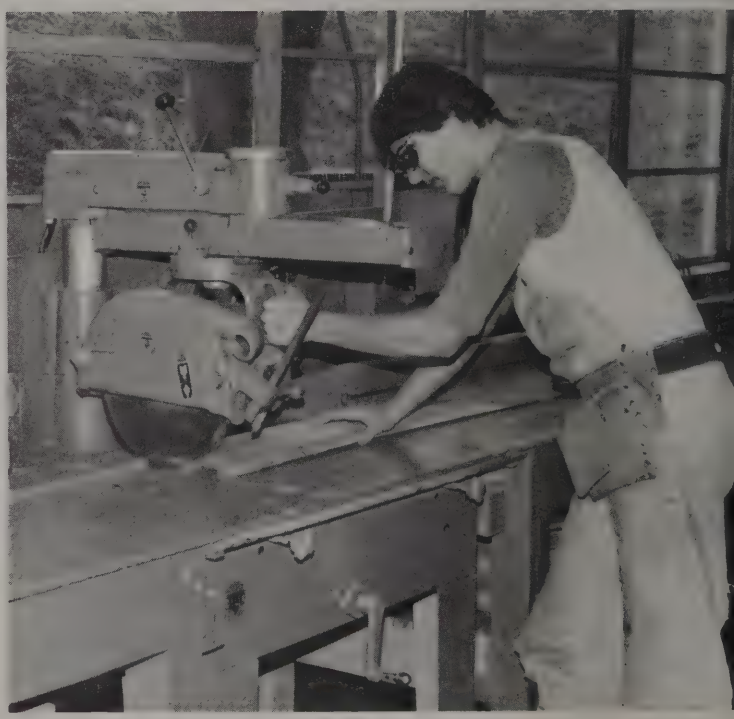
Vocational

Carpentry

The carpentry program is primarily designed to teach skills needed in house building. Students graduating from the program with a four year certificate can expect to find employment as entry level carpenters. Students in the carpentry program learn to build and remodel assorted types of wood frame structures by laying out, cutting, fitting, and joining the various components using both head and power tools. Instruction is given in two basic divisions of house carpentry: rough framing and finish work. Lessons revolve around the structural components of platform frame construction. Finish work includes exterior trim, siding, roofing, stairs, flooring, cabinets, and door and window trim. First and second year students combine theory and shop lessons to build mock houses on actual foundations in the shop. The use and care of tools as well as trade terminology is emphasized. Graduates may choose to enter apprenticeship, work for a contractor, do installation and maintenance work, or to eventually become a self-employed independent contractor.







Drafting

Drafters prepare detailed drawings based on rough sketches, layouts, specifications, and calculations made by scientists, engineers, architects, and designers. These drawings contain detailed views of the object as well as specifications for materials to be used, procedures to be followed, and other information needed to carry out the job. The machine drafting program concentrates on the design of machine parts and tools, but graduates have the foundation to specialize in other areas, such as electrical, aeronautical, structural, and architectural drafting. During their training, students complete a series of projects designed to teach lettering and line work, the use of instruments, geometric drawings, single and multi view drawings, drawing techniques, detailing of machine parts, detailing from layouts, elements of tooling, elements of design, power transmission, production detail drawing, and computer aided design (CAD). Besides curriculum projects, students also work on community projects requiring drafting skills. Upon graduation, students are prepared to work as entry level drafters in a variety of specialized areas.

Electrical

The electrical program at Tantasqua Vocational High School prepares students for entry level work as paid electrical assistants and/or apprentices for residential, commercial, and industrial contractors. After apprenticing for 8,000 hours and passing a state-wide written and practical exam, the apprentice becomes a licensed electrician and is able to work in any setting that requires the skills of an electrician for electrical installation in new buildings, rewiring of old buildings, electrical maintenance and repair, and troubleshooting of electrical equipment and installations. During their school program, students spend two years studying residential wiring and one year each learning commercial and industrial wiring. They learn specifics such as requirements of the National Electrical Code, the use of hand and power tools, safety practices, electrical devices, circuits and materials, and the installation, maintenance, and service of motors, generators, and electrical controls. Qualified junior and senior students participate in a co-op program that provides on-the-job training under the supervision of a licensed electrician.

Machine Shop

Our objective in the machine shop is to give the student, boy or girl, a sound basic knowledge of the machine trade. This includes learning how to translate from blueprints, sketches, or verbal instructions. They get acquainted with the various types of metals such as their characteristics, and the tolerances and finishes required in machining a finished and precise part. They learn to operate all the machines properly and safely. These include lathes, drill presses, milling machines, surface, cylindrical, and internal grinders, the jig borer, inspection procedures, the heat treatment of metals, electrical discharge machining, and shaping. This training is accomplished under industrial atmosphere so that the change from school to the world of work is orderly. With this specific and in-depth training received from our programs, services, and activities, we believe that our graduates have gained a saleable skill and attitude to achieve stability or advancement in employment and to be able to earn a profitable living in their selected occupation.

Welding

Welding is used throughout industry for all types of metal products, from the construction and repair of ships, cars, spacecraft, and buildings, to thousands of smaller products. Students learn the basics of arc welding, including stick welding done with flux coated metal filler rod, mig welding done with wire, and tig welding done with a tungsten electrode and filler rod. About one third of the curriculum teaches metal fabrication, the process of bending, shaping, and cutting metals. Welding students also receive extra experience by working on school and community projects in addition to curriculum requirements. By the end of their studies, students are familiar with the properties of metal, and are able to use hand held equipment and machines to do factory and construction work. Graduates are prepared to begin working as welder's assistants and may advance to become welders and metal fabricators or foremen, responsible for planning, cutting, and assembling jobs.

Varsity Softball

The 1986 softball team had an exciting season, compiling a 9-8 record. Five of the games, against Border Conference foes, were decided by one run.

Co-captains Mary Duff and Amy Sosik along with Patty Puduski were the only seniors on the team, which featured many early bloomers. Juniors Amy Raczkowski, the pitching ace, Kerrie Nasse, Wendy Connor, Sharon Morin, and Kathy Boccia shoed a solid foundation for the 1987 team. Sophomores Tammy Gresenz, Jaci Amiro, Sue Wheaton, and Sarah Roy, showed that they could handle the pressure of varsity ball earlier than most. Sue Nelson, Cindy Lawrence, Desi Thompson, and Kathy Moynagh were also used in spot duty on occasion.

Mary Duff and Sharyl White were selected to the Border Conference all-star team and Duff was also picked to be on the Worcester County all-star team. The team voted Duff as the MVP and Robin Tibbetts as the unsung hero. The captains for 1987 are Kathy Boccia and Robin Tibbetts.

Coach Emrich praised his team that was sharp and serious about the game and highly motivated. Fortunately most of the team will be back for 1987.

Girls Soccer

Border Conference Champs, for the second year in a row, undefeated in regular season play and District Tournament semi-finalist. Quite an outstanding year for our girls soccer team.

The team experienced its only loss in post season play to the always skillful Westford Academy. That game was played on the coldest night in 85 years, for that November 13 date, on the artificial surface at W.P.I. Seniors playing their final season were Sandy Blanchard, Yvette Crompton, Julie Kostifas, and Laurie O'Grady.

Border Conference All-Stars were Sue Nelson, Laurie O'Grady, Heather Reece, Sarah Roy, Dawn Schroth, and Brenda Worrell. Brenda was also selected as a member of the Division I Central Mass All-Stars.

Captains Crompton, Kostifas, and O'Grady will pass their mantle of leadership to new captains Krys Kastberg, Sue Nelson, Heather Reece, Sarah Roy, and Dawn Schroth. All of the newly crowned captains are charter members of the team starting out with it at it's inception when they were in the ninth grade.

The team scored 72 goals, 22 by Brenda Worrell, 17 by Heather Reece, and 10 by Sarah Roy. The remaining 23 were spread among 11 other team members. Hallie Brothers led the team in assists with 10, followed by Brenda Worrell's 6 and 4 each from Sarah Roy and Heather Reece. The remaining 15 were distributed among 8 other players.

Only 14 goals were scored against our remarkably strong defence. Everything was a team effort. The philosophy being that when we had the ball everyone was on offence and when they had the ball everyone became a defender. Total team soccer coupled with first rate physical conditioning.

The team closed it's season with a covered dish "pot luck" supper for all players and their families at the high school cafeteria. Coach Emrich and Mrs. Feeta Roy served as guest speakers.

Soccer has proven not only to be the number one game on the planet Earth but also the number one game among the girls of Tantasqua.

Football

In 1986, the Tantasqua Warrior Football Team went through a lot together. They were a young team with a lot of enthusiasm. The season started on a low note, the first four games were shut-outs. But they bounced back in week five against Worcester North beating them 26-6. Their only other win was against Athol with a score of 35-14.

Although the team was inexperienced it will come back a bigger, stronger, and meaner team in 1987.

Girls Basketball

At the date this yearbook went to press our basketball season had three regular season games remaining and two tournaments. However, several significant events have already been accomplished. The team had it's best record ever with 12 wins and 2 losses (seaon not complete). The Warriors defeated Southbridge for the first time in 15 years and qualified for the District Tournament.

Seniors on the team were Co-Captains Tina Leduc and Kathy Leonard, Missy Plante, Jan Hemingway, and Heather Sherman. Sophomore and Junior starters were Kathy Mounagh, Brenda Worrell, Heather Reece, Sue Nelson, and Danielle Bultron.

Coach Bill Emrich made his debut as varsity coach after coaching at the J.V. and 9th grade level. Assisting Coach Emrich was first year coach Kelly Woodard. The J.V. team has won a majority of their games and several players should prove to be formidable varsity material.

Concert Choir

Concert choir is a large group of over 90 members this year. Every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday the group rehearses under the direction of Ms. Werlin, preparing for three concerts per year. When second semester began, the music department was lucky to hire a student teacher, Ms. Deborah Smith, who is a student at U Mass. She has been a great addition to the choral program.

Chorus Officers

Concert Choir elects six officers every year to help Ms. Werlin and keep everything running smoothly. President Gina Soliz runs meetings to discuss fund raisers, chorus activities, and keep things functioning. Secretary Shauna Blanchard takes notes at every meeting as well as attendance during chorus, which is not an easy job when keeping track of 90 people. Alison Brown is our librarian. She is in charge of passing out music scores, taking inventory, and making sure everyone has the proper folder and music. Because there is so much work involved, her assistant, Bret Glover is always eager to help. Bret is also the publicist, who is in charge of sending press releases to the newspaper announcing various chorus events and concerts. Amy Raczkowski, our incumbent treasurer, handles the financial end of things. Jamie Gowing, as equipment manager, makes sure the stage is set up for each performance.

In addition to concerts, there are festivals at which we play with other schools, trips, and social activities. Anyone who has survived band with Mr. Daley will remember his most famous words: "Practice! Practice, or else!"

Band Officers

Sharyl White, Lisa Repasky, Jamie Blanchard, Scott Belanger, Robin Tibbetts, Kathy Dussault, Mary Gorniak, Mr. Daley

The band could not function efficiently without the support of the band council. Their different jobs provide assistance to the director and musicians, allowing music, supplies, and money to be dispensed and collected, and activities planned and carried out. An election for these posts is held in the spring.

Marching Band

September comes, and the Tantasqua Band begins another busy year with the football season. As the leaves fall and the wind howls down our necks, another show comes together and, dreams of quick victories and warm concert halls fill our minds. The Marching Band is in full swing as another season comes to a close with the last halftime show.

The story of Fall '86 will always be Sharyl White, our president, fighting the good fight in Spencer. Alas, the force will no longer be with us! Question of the decade: "Hey, where's the Memorial Day Parade this year?"

Drum Major Lisa Repasky and the TRHS Marching Band play the field at halftime, above.

Jazz Band

Like the greats of old, we play at night, man. The later, the better. Whether it's a cool ballad, a spicy, Latin, Bossa Nova, a funky fat-back beat, or just breezy swing, we're your type.

Girls' Chorus is mainly a jazz and pop ensemble for women. The group rehearses twice a week learning music for the three main concerts. Not only do they sing in three- and four-part harmony, but they choreograph most of their music as well. A lot of hard work and fun result in great performances.

Choraleers

Choraleers is a select group of sixteen voices auditioned from the ninety-member Concert Choir. The group meets every Wednesday evening for two hours of intensive rehearsal. Not only do they perform at the school's three concerts, but they take extra time to perform at town functions, churches, and senior centers. The group takes an annual musical retreat to Paxton where they spend a lot of time rehearsing, playing football, break-dancing, carving pumpkins, and just plain having a good time. Choraleers sing a cappella without a conductor. Once asked by a nonmember, "How can they sing without a conductor if they can't even carve a pumpkin?" They continue to strive for musical excellence, even if it means singing with a burger in the throat.

TRI-M

Tantasqua's chapter of TRI-M, "The Modern Music Masters Society", is an honor society for musicians, similar to the academic honor society, N.H.S. Members are chosen on the basis of five points of distinction: Scholarship, Character, Cooperation, Leadership, and Service. Each year new members are inducted in a formal initiation ceremony. Individuals perform in recitals, the initiation ceremony, and for other community organizations.

"The purpose of the National Honor Society is fourfold:
* to create an enthusiasm for scholarship
* to stimulate a desire to render service
* to promote leadership
* to develop character"

Members of the NHS are selected on the basis of the above ideals. During their membership at Tantasqua, they're involved in fund-raising and community activities, such as their annual pancake breakfast, ushering at the graduation ceremony, guiding parents on parent-teacher conference nights at the high school, and babysitting for parents of junior high students in the junior high gym on their Parents' Nights. Two scholarships are given by the NHS annually, one to a member and one to a nonmember. Also, two of our members compete for a national scholarship given by the National Association of Secondary School Principals. This year's competitors were Leigh Russell and Henry St. Laurent.

Being a member of the National Honor Society is a privilege. It is an honor to receive recognition for one's academic and community achievements.

N.H.S. Officers

This year's president is Leigh Russell. John Phillips is vice-president; Gina Soliz is secretary; and Shauna Blanchard is treasurer.

Pancake Breakfast

On Nov. 8, the NHS held their annual pancake breakfast. Food preparation began at 8:00, and serving started at 9:00. That seems very early, but the somnambulatory state of many of the workers didn't affect the quality of the food produced, and caused no injuries. Overall, the breakfast was a success. All the NHS members present had fun learning their way around the cafeteria kitchen (particularly the dishwasher) and working together.

N.H.S. Induction

On May 22, 1986, thirty new members and four new officers were installed into the National Honor Society at Rom's Restaurant.

During the buffet dinner, guests were entertained by Mr. Daley and the Tantasqua Jazz Band. Following the meal, the ceremony began with remarks by outgoing president Charlotte Haller, Mr. Wilson, Mr. Simanski, Mr. Bombard, and Mr. Castendyk, the NHS adviser. Laurance Morrison, the president of Laurance S. Morrison Company, Inc. was the guest speaker. The outgoing officers then discussed the four principles of membership — leadership, scholarship, service, and character.

The new members were introduced and inducted following the repeating of the National Honor Society pledge and the candle-lighting ceremony. The four new officers were then installed, and the evening was complete. A good time was had by all.

Morning Announcements

Regular announcers Shelly Trant and Lynne O'Grady look on as Gina Soliz reads one of her infamous "Roses are red" poems.

Student Council

For a Student Council member, the year does not begin in September, but in the spring, with the annual elections. Speeches are heard, and votes are tallied while nervous nominees sit on edge, awaiting the end of the day when the results are announced . . . the rest is history. The Tantasqua Student Council is set for another year of service. This years Student Council has been up to its usual activities, dating back to the summer with a car wash. When school starts, the 24 member council, with its fearless leader Mr. Bond, concentrates its attention on sales from the shack at football games. Each season of the year offers the Student Council opportunities for new projects, such as Student-Faculty Basketball games, dances, the Blood Drive, Spirit Days, and the infamous Student Council Cupids.

Throughout the school year, council members attend various workshops in search of new ideas to better the school, and evoke enthusiasm and school spirit.

Junior Class Officers

July Belber, Peter Tryba, Gabe Loorem, and Marci Leger

Teddy Malvey, Steve Duff, Mike McConville, and Dawn Myers

Business Club

The Business Club was started this year by Ms. Heske. Many students came to her interested in starting a club last year but it was too late in the year. This year Ms. Heske started the club early in the year with many eager participants. The club has had many guest speakers come to the school and they also had a very successful fund raiser. The Business Club will also have a Business Competition in April which will involve many of the surrounding schools.

The officers of the Business Club are:
Charlene Koska — President
Val Tourtellotte — Vice President
Sharon Morin — Secretary

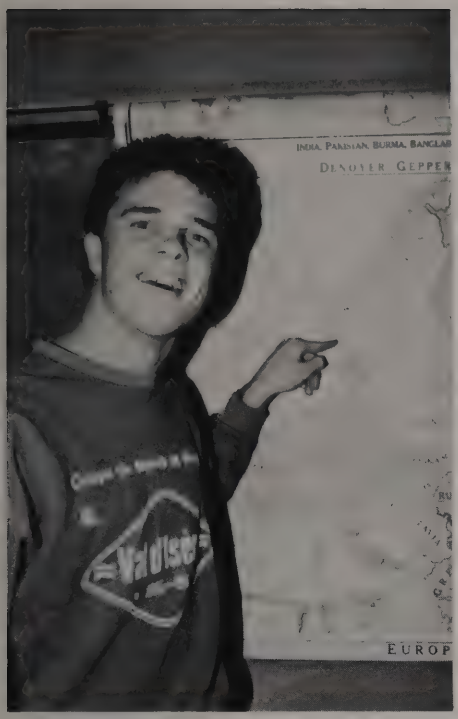
Seated: Marcia Chartier, Jennifer Donais, Kelly Campbell, Laurie Dupuis, Chris Myers, Michelle St. Laurent, Lori Wilson, Melinda Gauvin, Tina Romano. Standing: Charlene Koska, Sharon Morin, Velma Tourtellotte, Ms. Heske.

Mathletes

The math team, coached by Mr. Allen, consists of twelve dedicated seniors, juniors and sophomores. The team competes in Division A of the Worcester County Math League. Several years ago, the team progressed from Division B to Division A to compete with schools such as St. John's and Worcester Academy. Tri-captains are seniors Marie Peters, Roma Hanley, and Leigh Russell. The team also participates in a math league through the mail with other schools of Worcester County.
Four times a year, the mathletes travel to a school to join two hundred students from across the county. Each member competes in three of five rounds and a team round, contributing to both an individual score and the team score. Awards are given each year to high-scoring individuals. This April, Tantasqua proudly hosted the final meet of the year. Each time, the members test their math skills and meet new friends.

Roma Hanley, July Belber, Leigh Russell, Marie Peters, Shauna Blanchard, Alanna Coolong, Kim Neilsen, Tom McKinney, Sandy Sutherland, Mark Peters, Amy Raczkowski, Heather Egan, Heather Smith, Lynn Repasky.

"Our Foreign Friends"



Odd-Ivar Hjetland came to the United States in August of 1986 to spend his senior year at Tantasqua. Odd-Ivar, better known as Odie (because most Tantasquans cannot pronounce his real name) is staying with fellow senior and Norwegian Rolf Mogstad. Both Odie and Rolf come from Lillesand, "small sand city," in the south of Norway.

Odie made the striking observation that "school is still school." However, he finds it exciting that he has the opportunity to perfect his English. As he plays soccer and participates in track and ski-club, Odie also likes the fact that sports are run through the school rather than independently. He finds Americans very open and friendly. Odie says he is very much enjoying the United States and has made many friends he will never forget.

Tantasqua's newest exchange student, Axel, is from northern Germany.

Yearbook Staff

We are: Leigh Russell, editor-in-chief; Roma Hanley, faculty editor; July Belber and Lynn Repasky, underclassmen editors; Sandra Goodermote; Sharyl White, activities editor; Amy Raczkowski, seniors editor; Gina Soliz, assistant editor; Kathy Dussault; Marie Peters, computer editor; Raoul Desy, vocational editor; Mark Peters; Lisa Repasky, sports editor; and Shauna Blanchard, ads editor and business manager.

Most people don't realize how much work goes into one page of this, let alone the entire book! We didn't know, ourselves, just how difficult this undertaking would be until we undertook it. This isn't just a book; it's weeks and months out of the lives of a few people who gave up sleep and food and fun to get this finished. Now that it's done, we would like to take this opportunity to apologize to Mr. Burgess, Mrs. Christensen, Mr. Laporte, and the custodial staff for their omission from the faculty section. If we missed anyone else, please forgive this grave oversight. We've tried to represent herein every facet of Tantasqua life, but since there are so many, it is not unlikely we missed one, and we offer our sincerest apologies to any person or group who was overlooked.

Personally, I (Leigh R., ed.) have a lot of people to thank, most importantly, the staff of the Tantasquan. (pictured) I really appreciate all your hard work, patience, tolerance, etc. Also, my Mom and Dad, Mr. Bombard, Mr. Simanski, Mr. Laporte, Mrs. Pariseau, Ms. Heins, John Carrier, and especially Mr. Blake, without whom I would have given up this ship a long time ago. Thanks very much.

Central District of Mass Association of Student Councils

CDMASC Secretary
Allan Zukowsky

Each fall and spring, the Tantasqua Student Council sends representatives to state conferences. At these conferences, student council members learn new ideas and give ideas to promote communication and friendship within our school. During 1986-87, THS Student Council member Allan Zukowsky was elected Secretary of the Executive Board. Allan is planning to run for re-election in 1987.

Student Advisory Council

SAC Representatives
Cheryl Fortier and John Phillips

The SAC is a legislatively mandated political entity. It is composed of popularly elected high school students in each city and town in the Commonwealth. The council's primary responsibilities are to respond to Massachusetts Board of Education issues by informing them of student opinion, and initiate, on behalf of the school community, projects and proposals that benefit the high school and the community.

Peter Pan flies at Tantasqua!!

On April 11 and 12, 1986, the "Tantasqua Players" staged a musical production of J.M. Barrie's classic "Peter Pan." Highlights of the show included dancing pirates, strange animals, a cursing fairy, sword-play, intrigue, romance, and such songs as "I Won't Grow Up" and "Neverland." Unquestionably, though, the most memorable parts of the play were the flying scenes. Tantasqua's auditorium was transformed by a few wires and pulleys into a runway for six lucky cast members who were airborne for part of the performance. At first, all were nervous, but once they got off the ground, they hardly wanted to come down.

"Peter Pan" was a magical experience for the cast and the audience, young and old alike!

One Act Play Competition — December 6, 1986

The sophomore class staged a light comedy called "A Danish Soap" or "The Danes of Our Lives." With due respect to the original, it was a soap opera version of "Hamlet." Featured players were Scott Belanger, Melinda Gauvin, Hansi Grignon, Heather Henry, Tacye Langley, Kelly Panek, Scott Pilate, Lonnie Thibeault, Deborah Welch, and Lori Wilson. Tacye Langley received the Best Actress Award for the role of Gertrude.

Junior 1-Act

The juniors won the play competition this year with Woody Allen's "Zeus", a comedy set in Ancient Greece and Fiskdale. It was directed by Mr. Randall and starred Bill DeForge, Dave St. Germaine, Melissa Lee, Shawn Corriveau, Scott McKay, Lisa Heller, Bryan Plumb, and Mark Peters. Also featured were Kevin Szwarc, Tamara Downs and Celeste Rodman. Members of the Greek chorus were Lara Allen, Chris Anderson, Marlene Croteau, Tim Gould, Rick Morris, Bridget Poirier, Lynn Repasky, and Kevin Szwarc.

Senior 1-Act

The seniors presented a confusing mystery entitled "The Potman Spoke Sooth". The plot contained many interesting twists and turns. It was directed by Gina Soliz, written by Shauna Blanchard, Leigh Russell was stage manager, and Lisa Repasky did the lights. It starred Jamie Gowing, Roma Hanley, Jamie Blanchard, Henry St. Laurent and Marie Peters. Sharyl White was "our lady in the booth" and Scott Martin provided a little divine intervention. David Chisholm and Kathy Dussault also put in appearances. Mr. Castendyk was the advisor.

WARRIOR PRIDE

When the yearbook went to press, it was clear the team was having a good year, but no one could anticipate the remarkable series of events that would close out the season. By the end of March, the girls had created more excitement and school spirit than any Tantasqua sport team of this decade.

First, though, there were heart breaks, and a season nearly lost. A home loss to Southbridge caused our record to drop to 12-2, but an overtime 44-42 loss to Quaboag, after we led by 11 points in the fourth quarter, was worse. The cruelest blow, though, was a heartbreaking 40-39 loss to Shepherd Hill to end the season. An uncalled foul prevented a Warrior win, a win that would have given us the Border Conference Title. The Districts seemed far off and unimportant that night. night.

To prepare for the district, the team played in the Western Worcester County Tournament, losing to Quaboag 34-27 and then defeating David Prouty, 61-45. Kathy Moynagh, emerging as a scorer, made the All-Tournament Team.

The first district game was in far-off Gardner on a Thursday night, and only a few loyal fans attended the dramatic 42-38 win. The Semi-Final game was played at Holy Cross. The team played brilliantly, led by Heather Sherman and Moynagh's scoring, and dominated Leicester 62-51.

The finals were preceded by a spirited pep-rally, and we brought twice as many fans as Oakmont did. Coach Emrich's use of his bench paid off again, as Danielle Bultron's two free throws and Heather Reece's clutch rebound brought us a 39-33 victory and the District II Championship.

It was a great moment, especially for the seniors who had given so much to the Program: Sherman, Tina Ceduc (our only Border Conference All-Star), Jan Hemingway, Kathy Leonard, and the invaluable Missy Plante.

One great thrill was left. Although an experienced Athol team defeated us 50-41 at Cathedral High in Springfield, the number and spirit of our fans created some memorable moments. It was a great, great season for the players, coaches, parents, and especially for Tantasqua itself. This was school spirit at its best. Thanks, girls.
